

Best Practice 1

Tree Plantation, Conservation and Garden Development

Objectives :

To implement tree plantation movement, to attract maximum number of students to this movement

To increase the value of tree plantation, tree conservation and environment among the students

To sensitize, encourage, involve students, teachers, college staff, all beneficiaries, citizens about tree plantation and tree conservation

To create a pollution free and prosperous environment in the college campus as well as in the locality.

Context :

N S S volunteers have planted trees in the college premises. In order to increase more greenery in the available space, to create interest in planting trees among the students, to understand the importance of tree plantation and its conservation, apart from the available trees, some of the teachers of the college decided about tree plantation.

The Practice :

It was decided that fruit trees and medicinal plants should be planted. Some teachers brought coconut, mango, chiku hirma, behda saplings by spending their own money and planted them. Some teachers work in plant conservation so that the students know the importance of tree plantation and tree conservation. Some teachers have installed cement benches in the garden at their own expense for garden development so that students, teachers, parents, citizens of the area can use the greenery, pollution free environment that has grown in the college premises due to tree plantation.

Evidence of Success :

A coconut garden is blooming in the college premises.

About 12 mango trees are growing and will bear fruit in the next two years.

The movement of birds and butterflies has increased in the area

There is increase in interest in tree plantation and tree conservation among the students.

Problems encountered and resources required:

There is not enough money available for tree conservation in initial stage.

Coconut Garden

Mango Garden

Cement Benches

Best Practice -2

Blood Donation Camp

Objectives: To make awareness about blood donation and collect units of blood

The Context: The location of college, the modern medical scenario and scarcity of blood in the domain in-forced us to create blood donors. Many peoples from this region are not aware and have misconceptions about blood donation.

Evidence of Success: NSS unit of college organized awareness camps regularly, provide facilities to test blood groups. Number of units of blood was collected and deposited in Shrikrishna Blood Bank.

Problems encountered and resources required: No problems experienced by the college while organizing Blood donation Camps. Funds required for miscellaneous requirements like healthy snacks, fruits for donors are managed by college.

